* Study Population

Provide a general description of the study population (e.g., number of subjects, subject demographics such as age, sex, and other key characteristics) and specify whether the study is expecting to include Children in Care* If the proposed interventional study population includes Children in Care*, provide a justification for the enrolment, including: evidence that the benefits outweigh the risks, the scientific and/or medical guestion is relevant to children.

Characters available: 3000

* Does your proposal involve Children in Care?

Children in Care (CiC) are children who have been placed under that control or protection of an agency, organisation, institution or entity by the courts, the government or a government body, acting in accordance with powers conferred on them by law or regulation. The definition of CiC can include children cared for by foster parents or living in a care home or institution, provided that the arrangement falls within the definition above. The definition of CiC does not include a child who is adopted or has appointed legal guardian.
